CHEF'S TIP

Bulgur wheat is a great whole grain that is high in protein and fiber for good energy levels and a happy healthy digestive system.

1. MARINADE & BULGUR WHEAT

Boil a full kettle. Pat the chicken dry with some paper towel. Place in a bowl with half of the Italian Rub and a drizzle of oil. Toss to coat, and set aside to marinate. Using a shallow bowl, submerge the bulgur wheat in 800ml of boiling water and add a drizzle of oil. Gently stir through with a fork, cover with a plate, and set aside to steam for 15-20 minutes.

2. SEEDS & CHARRED PEPPERS

Place the sunflower seeds in a large pot over a medium heat. Toast for 3-5 minutes until golden, shifting occasionally. Remove from the pot and set aside to cool until serving. Return the pot to a high heat with a drizzle of oil. When hot, fry the diced pepper for 3-4 minutes until lightly charred but still crunchy. Remove from the pot on completion and set aside.

3. MAKE YOUR CACCIATORE SAUCE

Return the pot to a medium heat with another drizzle of oil. When hot, add the sliced celery and sauté for 3-4 minutes until soft and translucent. Add the grated garlic and the remaining Italian Rub and fry for about a minute until fragrant. Add the cooked chopped tomatoes, vegetable stock, and 180ml of boiling water. Bring to the boil. Then, lower the heat and simmer for 10-12 minutes until thickened and reduced by a quarter.

4. BOOST YOUR BULGUR

When the bulgur wheat is cooked, fluff up with the fork. Stir through the chopped parsley, toasted sunflower seeds, and a drizzle of olive oil. Season to taste.

5. FINISH UP

Once the cacciatore has reduced, add in the marinated chicken mini fillets, pop on the lid, and simmer for 4-6 minutes until cooked through. Stir through the rinsed baby spinach and cook until wilted. On completion, add in the charred yellow pepper and chopped olives. Add a sweetener of choice and seasoning to taste. Remove from the heat.

6. TUCK IN!

Plate up some herby bulgur wheat and top with the saucy chicken cacciatore. Scrumptious!
