West African Venison & Peanut Stew

with rotis & fresh parsley

This West African peanut stew is traditionally called granat soup. This recipe is made with simple ingredients; peanut butter, tomato, onions and garlic! These flavours meld together to create a magically unique and tasty dinner. With peanuts for added crunch and sprinkles of parsley for a fragrant finish, you'll remember this dish for a long time to come!

From Your Kitchen

Oil (cooking, olive or coconut)
Salt & Pepper
Water
Paper Towel
Sugar/Sweetener/Honey

1. BASE CAMP Boil the kettle. Place a pot over a medium heat with a drizzle of oil. When hot, add the onion chunks and fry for 6-7 minutes until soft, shifting occasionally. While the onion is frying, rinse and cut the potato into small bite-sized chunks.

2. LOAD THE STEW When the onions are soft, add the grated garlic, the potato chunks, ½ the rub, the tomato passata, the peanut butter, 800ml of boiling water, and the stock. Mix until the peanut butter is fully combined. Reduce the heat and leave to simmer for 20-25 minutes until slightly thickened and the potato is soft. Add a splash of warm water if the sauce reduces too quickly.

3. TOAST PEANUTS Place the peanuts in a non-stick pan over a medium heat. Toast for 3-5 minutes until golden, shifting occasionally. Remove from the pan and roughly chop.

4. SIZZLING VENISON While the stew is simmering, rinse the parsley and the kale. Roughly shred the kale. Chop the rinsed parsley. Pat the venison dry with paper towel, cut into bite-sized chunks, and coat in the remaining rub and a drizzle of oil. Return the pan to a medium-high heat with a drizzle of oil. When hot, add the venison chunks and fry for 2-3 minutes per side until browned and cooked to your preference. When the stew has 2-3 minutes remaining, add the shredded kale and the browned venison. On completion, season with a sweetener of choice (to taste), salt, and pepper.

5. ROTI TIME Return the pan, wiped down, to a medium heat. When hot, warm the rotis for 30-60 seconds per side until heated through and lightly toasted. Alternatively, spread them out on a plate in a single layer and heat up in the microwave for 30-60 seconds.

6. WEST-AFRICAN FEAST! Plate up the fragrant peanut & venison stew. Sprinkle over the toasted peanuts and garnish with the chopped parsley. Side with the warm roti. Divine, Chef!
