1. OH, THIGH THERE! Preheat the oven to 220°C. Place the chicken thighs on a roasting tray. Pat dry with paper towel. Coat in oil and season. Roast in the hot oven for 30-35 minutes.

2. ON A ROLL While the chicken is roasting, rinse the quinoa and place in a pot. Submerge in 800ml of salted water and place over medium-high heat. Pop on the lid and bring to a simmer. Cook for 12-15 minutes until the quinoa is tender and its tails have popped out, adding more water if required during cooking. Drain if necessary and return to the pot.

3. PREP COOK DUTIES In a small bowl, combine the festive spice and the marinade. Set aside. Rinse and roughly shred the kale. Season, coat in oil, and spread out on a roasting tray. Using your hands, gently massage the kale until softened and coated in oil. Rinse, trim, and slice the green beans into thirds. Peel and roughly dice the onions.

4. PREPARE TO BE A-GLAZED When the chicken has 10 minutes remaining, remove the tray from the oven and give it a shift. Coat the chicken with the festive marinade. Pop back in the hot oven along with the tray of kale. Roast for the remaining time until the chicken is cooked through & sticky and the kale is crispy.

5. KEEN-WOAH! Place a large pan over medium-high heat with a drizzle of oil. When hot, add the diced onion and the sliced green beans. Fry for 5-6 minutes until softened and browned, shifting occasionally. Add the rub and fry for 1 minute until fragrant, shifting constantly. Add the cooked quinoa and the peas. Fry for 2-3 minutes until the peas are warmed through, shifting occasionally. Season to taste.

6. RUN THE DISH Make a bed of the crispy kale. Top with the loaded quinoa and sticky chicken thighs. Drizzle over any remaining roasting juices. Sprinkle over the slivered almonds. Amazing, Chef!

Chef's Tip

If you would like to toast your slivered almonds, place them in a pan over medium heat. Toast for 3-5 minutes until golden brown, shifting occasionally.
